Yo Vinny Red & Vinny Blue, I felt it is about time we put a badge on the both of you.

Please raise your right hands and listen to me, as I explain some of your security responsibilities.

You will wear this badge with great honor and glory, while greeting guests from the 1st through 45th story.

You will advise when a guest needs help without haste, and assist EVS with getting rid of some waste.

You will keep a look out for the wise guys, and assist those with teary eyes.

You will recommend great things to eat, such as the Sheppard's Pie at N.F.I.

You will call in when there may be a fight, and advise some when to call it a night.

You will be available when duty calls whether it be 1am, or a monthly chat with C.K.M.

You will calm the guests when the fire alarm alerts, and remind some ladies they must keep on their shirts.

You will remember when requesting leave, every body works on New Year's Eve.

You constantly will be working the New York attitude, while never appearing to be overly rude.

Let's congratulate our newest Cadettos Novello to the team.

Which means new cadets for those non Italians out there.
